TIME RUNNING OUT FOR 'REVENGE' SLAYER HERE

Fire Underwriters Say They'll Seek New Survey Here

Two representatives of the National Board of Fire Underwriters here Tuesday told hot-tempered Daly City officials they would ask their headquarters to authorize a supplemental survey to check alleged discrepancies in the recent report which skyrocketed DC fire insurance rates.

This was the word from optimistic City Manager George Watts, who said the supplemental survey could reduce the number of points assessed against Daly City and bring "possibly a reduction in rates from the present Class Seven to maybe Class Five."

The gist of the DC protest centers around many planned improvements in the fire department, well mapped out at budget time last year. Local officials claim the underwriters report still has many errors and also does not take these improvements into account.

Meeting with Watts, Councilman Francis Pacelli, Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy and Work Director Otis Calhoun here this week were Carl Weers, assistant chief engineer for the underwriters' Pacific Coast office, and Walter Wells, one of the three engineers who helped draft the report on Daly City.

Watts said Weers stated it might take about a month before the San Francisco office will get an okay from back east for a new survey here. Also, the underwriters must again pour over the alleged report "errors" and weigh the "improvements."

Watts said these improvements include this year's appropriations of $50,000 for two new fire pumper trucks (currently out to bid), the $95,000 new fire station near Westmoor High School, $95,000 in new equipment for the fire department, $210,000 for a new fire chief's vehicle, plus new water wells and well sites. The wells will be secured through an economical "share" plan with both Daly City school districts.

The city manager also cited plans for a sixth Daly City reservoir—a $100,000 project, will be located off Skyline and will service the new Doelger, McKeon and Callan home developments, south of Westmoor avenue. These subdivisions provided this site as part of their annexation agreements with the city.

If these improvements are credited and some of the other errors in the underwriters' report are corrected, Watts said, the insurance rates will be lowered and would reflect a clearer picture of conditions here.

Answering earlier criticism that the city fire department was being neglected in the city budget, Watts and the council have declared that this is not the case "by any stretch of the imagination."

Watts said the total budget for the fire department this fiscal year is $314,315 (including capital improvements and the regular operating budget)—the second highest budget outlay for any city department. The police department comes next with a total budget of $271,402.

He added that nothing in the body of the underwriters' report indicates the fire department is understaffed and under-equipped.

"Logically this conclusion appears to be generalized from assumptions based on the underwriters' report," he asserted.

Watts also corrected figures on the library budget, stating that only $136,000 would be spent this year instead of $239,000.

"The lion's share of our budget has been placed with the police and fire departments," he went on.

The city manager also challenged the underwriters on one phase of their report on the Daly City water system.

"Daly City's water system is adequate to meet daily consumption. Connections to the San Francisco water system are used for emergency systems only," he concluded.

DC OFFICIALS ATTEND STATE, LOCAL CONCLAVES

City Manager George Watts and Councilmen Bob St. Clair and Francis Pacelli will be in Los Angeles today and Friday for the annual state conference on industrial safety.

Mayor Michael DeBernardi and Councilmen Edward Dennis and Joseph Verducci will attend the North County Council meeting tonight at Brentwood Lodge in South San Francisco.

Mrs. Norman Narin, housewife, 156 Northgate avenue; John Doelger, vice president of Henry Doelger Building Company, 124 Northgate avenue; Mrs. James Kennedy, housewife, 100 South Mayfair avenue; and Joseph L. Sarto, manager of the Villa Sanitarium, 130 Vale street.

Also named to the panel was Eldo Lanza, a Colma rancher. New Grand Jury foreman is Lee Ham, 39, head of a Millbrae engineering firm.

The panel of 30 members includes five women.

Westlake Tot, 3, Injured In Fall From Moving Auto

Brooks Painter, three-year-old Westlake tot, was hospitalized last week a few minutes after he fell from the back seat of his mother's car to the pavement as she was driving down Alemany near Junipero Serra. Officer Charles Munday, who was riding in his patrol car behind the Painter vehicle, quickly rushed the youth to Junipero Serra Hospital. He was treated for cuts and bruises, then transferred for overnight observation at St. Mary's Hospital.

Brooks, according to his mother, Carol, of 1317 South Mayfair, was riding in the back seat with his four-year-old sister. He apparently loosened the door's safety device while standing up and waving to other motorists.

Trustees Split, But Appoint Architect On Pershing Replacement

After much ado and continued public unrest, district trustees Monday night finally settled the long-standing issue of picking an architect to design a replacement for old General Pershing School on Hanover street.

But the decision, giving the job to Architect Angus McSweeney, who's busy designing three other new schools for the district, came the hard way. The school board Monday split right down the middle on the appointment as tempers at the table and in the audience flared.

Frank Verducci made the motion for McSweeney "on recommendation of the administration," he said. Tom Noonan seconded the move, but

MOMS' MARCH AGAINST POLIO BRINGS $4304

Daly City and Colma area residents reached into their hearts and pocketbooks Tuesday night and donated $4303.70 in the Mothers' March against polio here.

Door-to-door drive chairman Mrs. Sanford Vickers, 155 Abbott avenue, termed the response "very good," and said all persons who weren't contacted could still donate by phoning her at PL 5-3590.

Approximately 350 mothers participated in the drive here. The total net was much higher than last year, but was still below marks of two or three years ago, Mrs. Vickers said.

Freeway Committee To Have 'The Facts'

Public hearings are due here in March or April on the Junipero Serra freeway route and Daly City officials intend to be firm in their presentation of facts to the State Division of Highways.

Chairman Francis Pacelli and DC freeway committee representatives attended last Wednesday's South San Francisco hearing on the Serra route south of here, at which South SF rejected two state routes and suggested a third that would go south to Skyline instead of taking valuable homes and property if routed closer to the center of SSF and northern San Bruno.

CSM Student Cited Here As Car Hits Girl

Priscilla Farrell, 9, of 484 C street, Colma, was injured Saturday at 3:40 p.m. when she was hit by an auto as she attempted to cross Mission street at East Molitke.

Driver of the car, Edward C. Leveroni, 19-year-old College of San Mateo student who lives here at 167 Mateo avenue, was cited by Officer Richard Phillips for failure to yield the right of way to a pedestrian. The girl was in the crosswalk when she was hit.

Leveroni, former Jeff High baseball ace, was proceeding in the fast lane of northbound traffic on Mission. He said he did not see the youngster until it was too late.

BLONDE COMPANION? Sheriff, DC Officers Hunt 'Mystery' Lady In Murder Of Norry

Time is running out for August Norry's slayer today as Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore and Daly City police inspectors continued their all-hours probe for the person who riddled the 28-year-old landscape gardener in the Crocker Hills early Sunday night.

The hottest "lead" thus far pinpoints the murder as a "revenge" killing, presumably by a blonde-haired young woman who was seen driving Norry's car Sunday evening near the lovers' lane parking spot off Peoria street where the vehicle was found abandoned.

Whitmore, after systematic talks with relatives and friends of the victim, believes Norry, whose wife of 18 months is pregnant, was slain by a female paramour "in a fit of passion."

But county and Daly City authorities aren't discounting the fact that the murder may have been committed by a man, possibly a friend of the suspected blonde or maybe even her husband.

Norry, who once worked as a dance instructor, left his home here at 176 Bruno avenue Sunday about 10:30 a.m. for work at a San Leandro industrial plant. He never arrived there.

His '56 model two-door sedan was discovered by patrolling DC Officer Jeff Westmore about 10:15 p.m. Sunday parked at the easterly end of the lovers' lane off Peoria street. Westmore found blood stains on both front and rear seats and 38 caliber bullet holes inside the car and in the left front drivers' side window.

Daly City officers began their hunt for Norry immediately thereafter, searching the surrounding hills. On Monday morning, Whitmore and his deputies, a Coast Guard helicopter and bloodhounds were employed as the search widened.

Norry's body was subsequently spotted just past noon by DC Officer David Johnson on a sloping knoll in the Crocker Estate near the old Army base, three miles east of his abandoned car. Johnstone and Officer Dick Phillips had been dispatched to the Army base area by Capt. Roy Beecher, who spotted prickly weeds on the underside frame of Norry's car and believed these were the type grown near the old army site.

Norry's body had been punctured with 18 bullets, indicating the slayer had reloaded the .38 caliber weapon twice

Vandals Clout School Buses

Rock-tossing and BB-firing vandals last weekend did $260 damage to four Jefferson High School District buses in a window-busting spree, custodian Bill Webb told police Monday morning.

Eleven windows were smashed by the believed juvenile culprits. The buses were parked behind the school's football stands on the west side of the campus.

Teenage Trio Admit Theta Burglary Act

Two Jefferson High delinquents and their 17-year-old unemployed companion were rounded up by Daly City police early this week for staging a burglary Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Vivian Yetter, 62 Theta avenue.

Most of the stolen property was recovered as police quickly apprehended the trio. Entry was made via an unlocked bathroom window on the upper floor of the home.

The teenagers admitted taking a diamond studded medal cross, 150 rounds of .22 caliber shells, two bottles of whiskey and seven packs of cigarettes.

Hi School Board

Trustees of Jefferson High School District will meet in regular session next Monday night at 375 South Mayfair, second floor. Public is encouraged to attend by District Supt. Edward Morgan. The session begins at 7:30 o'clock.

Coca Cola Man Booked Here: Drunk Driving

A 43-year-old Coca Cola company branch manager was arrested for drunk driving by Daly City police Saturday about 4 a.m. after his car hit a parked auto on Knowles and was observed weaving on both sides of Miriam street.

Officer Ralph Warren booked Jack W. Gibson, 125 Cambion drive, after the latter failed both roadside and hospital sobriety tests.

An unidentified motorist led to Gibson's arrest. He informed Warren that a car had just struck one parked in front of 231 Knowles avenue and had sped off. The parked auto was registered to Herbert Cantrell, 343 Santa Barbara.

Public Works Director Otis Calhoun will represent DC this Friday in San Mateo at a meeting on the Serra route, called by Senator Richard Dolwig. Dolwig wants DC, SSF, San Bruno and Millbrae representatives to talk over the north county freeway outlook.

The DC freeway committee, meeting last Wednesday night at city hall, moved to form a five-man speakers group of local professional experts with a two-fold purpose: to present authoritative facts at the state hearings here on the route the city prefers, and to speak to groups throughout the community on the city's reasons for selecting the least destructive of five routes the state has studied here.

The speakers all will be Daly City residents who will present the route the city prefers in relation to its affect on the

Doesn't Look, Girl Injured Crossing Street

An eight-year-old Daly City girl suffered minor cuts and bruises Saturday about 4:30 p.m. when she was struck by a car on Winchester street in front of Lincoln playground.

Edward Kruse, 199 Acton street, driver of the auto, was cleared of liability by Officer Charles Terry after the girl, Patricia M. McEvoy, 215 Winchester, admitted she ran into the street without looking both ways. Kruse was going only about 20 mph, he said.

Terry rushed the girl to Junipero Serra Hospital for treatment.

tax base, engineering problems and the city's legal rights in pushing the route.

Pacelli said the public hearings here should be held in a large building, able to accommodate a big audience of citizens. Last week he suggested to Joseph Sinclair, assistant state highway engineer, that the meetings be held at Westmoor High School.

Screeners To Meet Trustees On New Chief

The elementary school board will meet for the first time with a professional screening committee here this Thursday night to determine the procedures each group will follow in recruiting a new superintendent by this July 1.

The session, closed to the public because it is a personnel matter, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the district office. Educators from six Northern California institutions and the county superintendent of schools, are on the screening unit.

Superintendent H. Z. Weibel, head of the district since 1951, was told last year that he would not be rehired this year. The board subsequently granted his request to stay with the district. He will be appointed principal of one of the new district schools due to open late next year. Weibel, 54, officially ends his superintendent's duties this June 30.

12 Rice Street Residents Request Two-Hour Parking

Twelve residents of Rice street have asked the city council to authorize two-hour parking signs on their street near Mission street because parking now is so heavy many of the homeowners have difficulty in getting into their garages.

The council turned the request over to the police department for a study and recommendation.

Hillcrest Druids Set Whist Party, Regular Meeting

The Druids of Hillcrest Circle 143 will hold a dessert-whist program Monday at 12:30 p.m. at Eagles Hall, 3344 San Jose avenue, Daly City. Cost is 50 cents.

Regular unit meeting will be held at 8 p.m., featuring a white elephant sale, according to Archdruidess Rita Garabedian. For more details, call C. Schuesler, JU 7-6757.

LAKE MERCED SCOUTS AWAIT NATIONAL WEEK

Lake Merced District's 2012 Scouts (800 of these in Daly City) will join the nationwide observance of the 49th annual "Scout Week," February 7 through 13.

Most of the bigger events are scheduled for San Francisco. The Daly City units, for the most part, will have open house affairs and special festivities at their individual meetings.

Lake Merced District Chairman is Bob Hunter Jack Hurt's Scout Executive and Howard Stites is local Scout commissioner.

The district is the second largest in the SF Scout Council and has 61 sponsored units. There are 100,000 boys active in Scouting in the Bay Area.

Since its inception in 1910, more than 29 million boys and leaders have been active in the national Boy Scout movement. The program is open to Cubs, ages 8 to 10; Scouts, 11 to 13, and to Explorers, 14 to 18.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD RUNS INTO AUTO ON TEMPLETON

Stephan Garcia, 5, of 1130 Brunswick street, required emergency hospital treatment Sunday afternoon after he was knocked down by a car in front of 199 Templeton avenue.

James F. Salo, 23, driver of the car, was moving west on Templeton when the mishap occurred. The injured youth told police he forgot to look for cars when he ran into the street, so Salo, a milk truck driver was not held responsible. Young Garcia actually brushed the rear left fender of Salo's sedan.

The five-year-old was taken to Junipero Serra Hospital by M&D Ambulance.

portant and that the immediate appointment of an architect would expedite state approval of the Pershing project.

McSweeney recently drafted site plans for the Pershing replacement at no cost to the district. He at no time, however, expressed any desire to win the Pershing replacement assignment.

Callan said the appointment of McSweeney for the Pershing replacement involved a "matter of principle."

"We had a committee working on this and I think we should stay with the recommendations of this committee," he exclaimed.

Noonan answered Callan that the board had authorized the committee with the understanding that trustees would consider its recommendations.

"We aren't bound by the committee's recommendations," said Noonan. "If the administration feels we can get these five classrooms (Pershing replacement) faster by acting now, I think we had better get the show on the road."

The fuss up front at the board table was enlarged from the audience by Mrs. Olpe White, Crocker-Pershing PTA mother, who told the board they were virtually missing the boat.

"The need for haste on your part, it seems to me," she stated, "is to get something done on the nine-classrooms planned for the Meussdorfer-Pershing site." She repeated the Crocker-Pershing area sentiment that both the Pershing replacement and Meussdorfer projects have been too long delayed by the district.

Old Pershing School, located at 631 Hanover street, houses over 400 kindergarten through third grade youngsters. The district has plans to replace this school with another building to house five classrooms and to construct a nine-classroom school on a 5.4 acre site centered by the Irene Meussdorfer property on Whittier street near the SF-SM County line.

Shapiro again reminded Monday that only the big Meussdorfer chunk of land itself is holding up progress for the 5.4 acre site. Fourteen other property owners involved in the purchase of the site have agreed to district prices and have turned over their deeds, he said.

Mrs. Meussdorfer, daughter of the wealthy hat-making pioneer, is letting her attorneys handle talks with the school district, represented by the district attorney. The elderly lady, who is opposed to selling her forest-like property for a school, says she would prefer to leave it for an old-folks rest home or hospital.

The school board has not moved to condemn the property, but this step may be necessary unless Mrs. Meussdorfer changes her mind.

Monday's stormy board meeting aroused many in the sparse audience, including Mrs.

Something For Everyone

By Sam Chandler
City Librarian

Ever since the first library was organized in ancient Babylon, someone has been questioning the rights of public libraries to exist. Since the beginning, then, librarians have been called upon to spell out what they believe to be the purpose of a library in this or that community. Although what I have to say may sound trite, I would like to tell the people of Daly City what we who work in the Daly City Public Library consider to be the purpose of this institution.

We believe the public library is the only institution in Daly City that exists solely for the purpose of making books available for cultural and intellectual as well as for material and vocational profit. Anyone who will take the time to listen to the reference questions posed at both branches of the library will see at once that this is a necessary service that the people of Daly City use considerably.

We believe the library, by working hand in hand with the schools and the churches, gives sustenance to young minds and souls.

We believe the library is a general center of reliable information. To insure the usefulness of the information that can be obtained therein we have recently replaced the out-of-date encyclopedias and dictionaries that have been in the library for years.

We believe the library exists to improve people's ability to participate usefully as citizens of this community and of the United States. The many people who use this service know that very few, if any, of Daly City residents can provide the magazines and newspapers that informed persons should read. But the library makes these things available at once.

We believe the library is filled with materials that describe the democratic attitudes and values of America. Thus it helps to preserve our precious heritage of freedom in a way

Norman Longmore, mother of a student at Vista Mar School. The housewife, of 84 Skyline drive, citing the overcrowded status of Vista Mar, urged trustees to consider "more practical buildings," more pay for teachers, and initiative in seeking state legislation to force builders to provide adequate school sites in their subdivisions.

Lewkowicz told her "yes, the builders are responsible in many cases for lack of school sites," but that the district's average of only 31.8 students per class was much better than the state average of 35.

Callan added that all district schools had to be approved and built under state funds and that the completion of Abe Lincoln, Daniel Webster and Thomas Edison schools late next year will alleviate much of the overcrowded school conditions here.

Noonan reminded that Architect McSweeney was right on schedule for the three new schools and that the board was doing its best in view of enrollment projections, available land, and eligibility for state funds.

Mrs. Mullen praised Mrs. Longmore's concern and said "it would be a good idea for more parents to take the time to educate themselves on the problems we are facing." The veteran trustee suggested a series of classes for parents to explain the district's program.

that no other portion of the city government can or should duplicate.

We believe the library helps the people of Daly City use their leisure time as will promote personal happiness and social well-being. We only wish those who doubt the necessity of having an active and well stocked library in Daly City could talk with some of the people who have found satisfaction from using the Daly City Public Libraries.

No doubt the people of Daly City who have discovered the library can list many other purposes for the existence of this institution. They, like the staff, know that the library fills a need in the community that makes it an absolute necessity.

The Woodshed & Hot-Rodders

Parents of Daly City's hot-rodgers have a prime responsibility—one that cannot be passed off to the schools and one that involves the safety of youngsters who continue to be endangered here by negligent driving.

Most of the hazardous driving teenagers have little regard for others in their high-speed dashes around the schools and other much-populated centers.

The local school districts have no jurisdiction over youngsters once they leave the school grounds. In-school lectures on driving habits and recklessness sometimes fail to get the point across.

We see nothing wrong with teenagers driving cars. But murderous driving must be met with head on.

This "supervision" must begin in the home. Parents can't blame the school for this disregard for authority.

Unfortunately, the teenagers who do the most damage get off pretty easy. A second chance is the usual philosophy. But it's time to eliminate these second chances. Lives are at stake.

Fortunately, the majority of Daly City's teenagers are good kids and a credit to any community. The minority element will always exist. But even a minority can be reduced in number if the woodshed treatment is substituted for a "blame the other guy" attitude by parents.

The home is the moulder of behavior. Are you giving your children the proper attention?

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT

State Interim Committee 'Sees' Need For State College Here

The State Senate Interim Committee on Education, after hearing testimony from local business and education leaders, recommended Saturday that a state college be established in San Mateo County.

The senate committee, coming into San Mateo County through the efforts of Senator Richard Dolwig, was headed by Senator Nelson Dillworth of Riverside County. Other members of the committee were Senator Robert Montgomery (Kern County), Senator John P. Murdy (Orange County), and Senator J. Howard Williams (Tulare County).

Senator Williams, who made the motion for recommendation at the hearing in Redwood City, commented that local representatives "had made a very fine case. I think that there is no doubt what so ever that a college is needed in this county." The recommendation passed unanimously.

After testimony by Assemblyman Louis Francis and Carl Britschgi, a report of the San Mateo County Citizens' Committee on the Establishment of a Four-Year State College was given by Committee spokesman Angelo Siracusa. This report, similar to the one given to the State Assembly Sub-Committee on Higher Education at its hearing here in October, pointed to a potential 15,000 full-time students at a college here. Siracusa emphasized that the figures and projections were based on those made up by las used were the same that state agencies and the formula had determined a priority of counties for the location of a college.

Henry Bostwick Jr., general manager of the San Mateo County Development Association, told the committee of the past and projected population and economic growth of the county. He stated that business interests in the county were unified in a progressive attitude toward the establishment of educational facilities.

William Goss, director of research, College of San Mateo, stressed three points, the first being that time is the "irrecoverable element" and that land acquisition should proceed as soon as possible. He also stated that adjacent facilities cannot meet the needs for San Mateo County and that commuting was not an answer to the problem. Goss also gave statistical evidence of the need for the college here.

Mrs. Helen Kerwin, representing the Advisory Planning Council of San Mateo County, pointed out some possible sites for a prospective college. Mrs. Kerwin, who followed Dr. Rex Turner, superintendent of Sequoia High School District, emphasized the need for immediate action on the selection and purchase of a site.

John T. Wahlquist, president of San Jose State College and the last to give testimony at the two-hour session, said, "in the long run, San Mateo will have a state college."

Senator Dolwig is now preparing a bill to go to the senate.

JESD Pupils Aid Needy In Clothing Drive

Between February 5 and February 11, children in Jefferson Elementary School District will be given the opportunity to bring clean, usable clothing so that less fortunate children can attend school.

The program is sponsored by the "Save The Children Federation," a non-profit, non-sectarian, non-political organization. It gives children an opportunity to help other children. Each year thousands are able to attend school because of shoes and clothing provided without regard to race or creed.

For the most part, donated clothing is shipped to isolated regions of the southern mountains and distributed free by responsible authorities.

Save The Children Federation was founded in 1932 and collects clothing through public schools on a nation-wide basis.

Elementary Students Aid Polio Campaign

Boys and girls of Jefferson Elementary School District have every right to be proud of their contribution in the battle against polio and other diseases. Exactly $933.06 was collected in the district's 13 schools and has been turned over to the March of Dimes headquarters, according to Supt. H. Z. Weibel.

Good Response For Mothers' Polio March

Weary but happy Daly City and Colma area mothers—and fathers, too—reported wonderful response from neighbors in the Mothers' March Tuesday night.

The hour-long drive climaxed the 1959 March of Dimes campaign in Daly City, with Mrs. Sanford Vickers leading scores of PTA volunteers in the area.

"The expanded new program of the National Foundation to include arthritis, rheumatism and birth defects has won genuine endorsement from Daly City," Mrs. Vickers said. "Actually, it dwarfs the former polio emphasis which led up to the Salk vaccine, although work on polio doesn't stop. Continuation of research and patient care is still required."

In driving around Daly City Tuesday night, Rudolph Krevolt, Daly City chairman for the foundation, noted that "here and there porchlights weren't burning. With this new foundation programming of such vital importance to every member of our family, we feel that everyone really wants to participate."

Krevolt said that contributions could still be sent to the National Foundation, 3 West 37th avenue, San Mateo.

Friends Of Library Start Group Discussions On Foreign Policy

Under the sponsorship of the Friends of the Daly City Library, a number of groups are being organized in this area for the discussion of key American foreign policy issues, as part of the "Great Decisions 1959" program. A large and enthusiastic group met at the Westmoor High School Library Tuesday evening to plan for local participation.

Great Decisions is an eight-week series, during which groups get together each week for the discussion of a particular question pertaining to the foreign policy of the United States. A ballot may then be filled in by each participant, expressing his opinion on the subject discussed. The ballots, at the end of the series of discussions, are forwarded to the proper governmental department in Washington, D.C., as an expression of citizen opinion.

Great Decisions is a nationwide program, originated by the Foreign Policy Association, a non-profit organization which is celebrating its 40th anniversary this year, and which is concerned exclusively with citizen understanding of world affairs. Over 600 groups in the Bay Area participated in last year's discussions. Fact sheets giving background material on each subject to be discussed are made available. In addition, the Daly City Library has on hand a bibliography on "Basic Reading in Foreign Affairs" and will assist those desiring additional reading along these lines.

As a further aid, each of the eight Great Decisions topics are to be discussed by a panel of local experts on Sundays at 1:30 p.m., on the KPIX Channel 5 program, "What Is Your Opinion?"

Mrs. Otis Calhoun, president of Friends of the Daly City Library, points out that any interested person can become a member of a discussion group on Great Decisions, or even organize a group among his friends and neighbors, if that is desired. For further information, those interested may phone Friends of the Library, PL 6-3739.

Westlake Mom Cites Need Of New Swim Pool

Dear Editor:

The tremendous success of the new Westlake Bowl proves how very much in need the youth of Westlake are for recreation. They need a swimming pool. This is not the time to say that perhaps if less frills were added to the very beautiful Westmoor High School, a pool could have been provided.

The badly overcrowded Jeff High pool is not large enough to accommodate all who wish to go, and furthermore, transportation there for Westlakers is not easy unless they get a ride. An indoor pool, situated in Westlake Park, would be a splendid thing. Funds naturally are not to be had, but couldn't it become a possibility by fundraising, such as a door-to-door drive and many rallies at the Doelger shopping center? Just think of the enthusiasm for such a community effort.

I have seen the mobs over at the new pool on 19th avenue in San Francisco. It's just a sample of what we could have here. With business too high, attendance could be limited to Daly City people only.

Once ready, the pool could be manned by students from SF State College who are certificated as swim safety instructors. This also would mean we would be doing good by offering employment to students who need it.

In time, I imagine Westmoor will have a pool. But will it be large enough to accommodate all who may want to use it? A pool like this will encourage housewives, too, during the day. Also mothers with pre-schoolers. The "Y" downtown used to do that.

My own sons bowl. They are in a league and love it. But they, too, wish we had a pool. We have gone over to Jeff many times. But it isn't as if it were here — and Jeff is so terribly crowded. This fact alone shows the need for a pool here.

Very truly yours,
Shirley S. Steigerwald

Joe Lewkowitz, Eagles To Pump For Polio Drive

Joe Lewkowitz' Richfield gas station will be pumping gasoline for the March of Dimes this Sunday (February 8), the 11th year this Daly City businessman has donated his gasoline profits to the National Foundation.

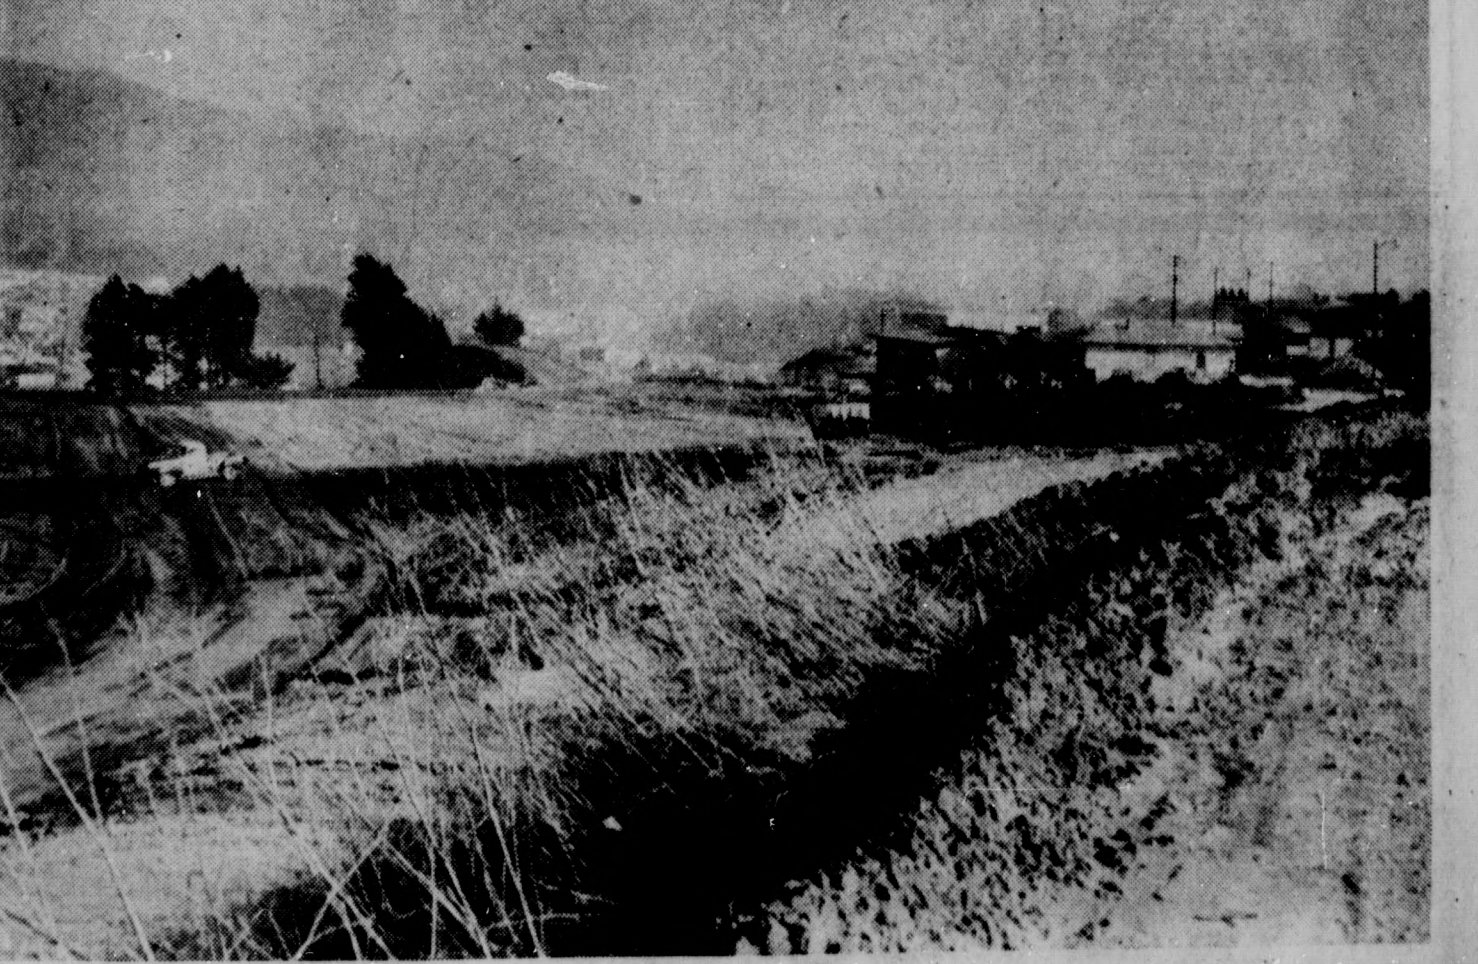

Colma-Vista Grande Aerie 1848 Eagles is co-sponsoring the event and will assist Joe at the station.

Lewkowitz is chairman of the board of trustees of Jefferson elementary school district. He has not only the responsibility for the 6500 children in the district, but the Lewkowitz family itself has seven children.

"We are very conscious of health problems in our area," said Lewkowitz. "And while the foundation made the Salk polio vaccine a reality, we recognize that the expanded new program of the foundation to include arthritis, rheumatism and birth defects is a greater challenge than ever before."

Lewkowitz' gas station is located at 3356 San Jose avenue. Five cents from every gallon sold will be donated to the March of Dimes.

Rudolph Krevolt, Daly City chairman for the foundation, and Mrs. Sanford Vickers, Mothers' March chairman Tuesday, commended this further March of Dimes effort in the area.

YWCA Speaker Tells Ways To Save Time

Speaking Tuesday morning before the Northern California YWCA in Daly City, Mrs. Helen Birchak, consultant for the San Mateo County Heart Association, discussed time-saving opportunities for busy homemakers.

Mrs. Birchak, who is also home economist for College of San Mateo, emphasized that "planning ahead for the daily, weekly and monthly chores makes the best possible use of our time and energy."

"From time to time we often say to ourselves 'why can't I plan my work better?' and then never do anything about it," she mentioned. "Actually, the few moments of time needed for proper planning will save us many hours which can be devoted to more family fun and recreation."

Proper planning starts off with an appraisal of the jobs to be done every day, such as washing the dishes, making the beds, and cleaning up after junior, she said. "Then, consider the weekly tasks, such as general housecleaning and washing, and the seasonal jobs, such as washing down the kitchen walls. Just by plotting them out on a 'must do—may do later' basis will simplify housekeeping tremendously."

Mrs. Birchak showed the group how to list these activities on a calendar check list. "Once your planning takes effect, you'd be surprised how your whole sense of well-being will improve," she said. "And the possibility of latent nervous tensions and those occasionally difficult family situations will be a thing of the past."

The daily average maximum temperature in San Francisco is 62.2 degrees.

Togetherness Ben Franklin PTA's Theme

The results of this discussion will be placed before parents Thursday evening preceding a question and answer period.

The "Teen Code," as visualized, would represent the joint efforts of students, teachers and parents to set up standards of dress and behavior in school and in public, "with," says Mr. Schweickhardt, "particular emphasis on its application to the bowling-alley problem."

Mrs. Milam extends an invitation to fathers and mothers of fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders to attend this important meeting, armed with questions in the spirit of "Togetherness."

INGA KOSKI
... health nurse

Inga Koski On North County Health Staff

The newly appointed supervising public health nurse in the San Mateo North County District Health Center is Miss Inga Koski.

A young woman of average height, blue eyes and a nice smile, Miss Koski gives a person, meeting her for the first time, an impression of warm friendliness. The enthusiasm she feels for her new job is contagious as she speaks of the combined public health nursing program of promoting health and nursing care that the two agencies, County Health Department and the Visiting Nursing Association of San Mateo County, provide to the community.

Miss Koski brings a varied experienced background to her new task and a lively interest in her profession. After beginning her career in Hartford, Connecticut, where she trained as a nurse, she went on to Columbia University where she received both her Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts degree.

She has had experience in visiting nursing with the Hartford VNA and official agency health service with the Health Department in Washington, D.C. Just prior to coming to San Mateo, Miss Koski had been clinical instructor in the nursing school and clinical supervisor of the Out-Patient Department at the Nemazou Hospital in Shiraz, Iran. This foreign service health situation had primitive problems similar to what this country was facing 50 years ago, in communicable disease control and poor sanitation, and it is quite different from the current health needs in San Mateo.

After two years in Iran, Miss Koski returned to the United States. California was her choice because, being from New England, she felt a desire to live in this part of the country and learn the background and customs of the west.

County Group Aiding Vallemar Heart Victim

The San Mateo County Heart Association is also acting as agent to obtain public donations for the travel expenses and surgery required by David Stewart, 28-month-old Vallemar baby with a rare heart deformity, it was announced today.

Although the association's principal objective is research rather than assistance in individual cases, it is coordinating the financial efforts of the Stewart family.

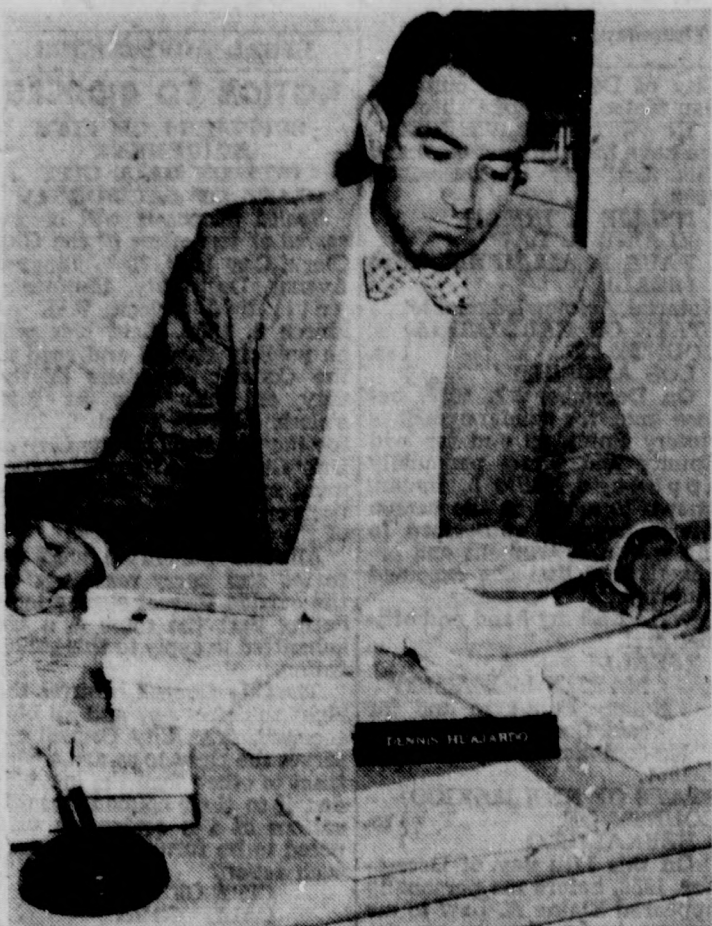

Since early January, the heart association has been searching for appropriate community resources to help the Coastside family. Actually, the research funds given by the American public to the American Heart Association and its many chapters made possible the surgery technique which Dr. Thomas G. Baffes of Chicago would be required to use in David's case, it was explained.

"Thanks to people in San Mateo county and everywhere else, this technique would never have been discovered without their generous donations of funds for research. Without the technique, no amount of financial aid could save David," a heart association executive said.

The successful heart techniques developed by Dr. Baffes through heart research funds indicates that "if the child survives the immediate postoperative period, a striking improvement is noted. In no instance has a child survived to have slight improvement only."

Huajardo To Represent DC At San Diego

Dennis Huajardo, coordinator of physical education for Jefferson Elementary School District, will serve as a panelist in San Diego on March 22 to discuss school site utilization and development.

This honor comes to Huajardo in recognition of his work in developing the playgrounds of the district's schools over the past seven years.

He has introduced playground games painted in several colors. This allows a greater variety of games and is more appealing to primary children.

A multi-colored kindergarten circle is being developed at General Pershing School similar to those at the Vista Grande, Jefferson, and Vista Mar schools.

Huajardo has also given particular attention to the placement of game areas and play equipment.

Westlake Catholic Women's Fifth Annual Show Attended By 1400

By Lenore Cresalla
The Fairmont Hotel was the place to be on Saturday afternoon to witness the gathering of almost 1400 lovely ladies attired in the newest spring attire when the Westlake Catholic Women held their fifth annual luncheon and fashion show in the Gold, Nob Hill and Venetian rooms of this famous hotel.

Probably the proudest person at any table was a little girl eight years of age, Mary Jo Gordon, as her mother, Mrs. Donald Gordon, was chairman of the party. Also at her table was Mrs. Gordon's mother and mother-in-law, as well as other members of her family.

When Mrs. Thomas Daly, president of the organization, greeted the group, there was another proud person in the room, namely Mrs. C. A. Lynch, her mother, who was seated with other members of Mrs. Daly's family and friends.

Mrs. Byron Davenport was the commentator in the Gold Room, and had an apt audience at her table in the personage of her mother, cousins and friends.

Attentively listening to the commentator in the Venetian room, Mrs. Edward Molkenbuhr Jr., was her charming teen-age daughter, Gayle, who shared a table with Mrs. Edward Molkenbuhr Sr. and friends.

Mrs. William Creagan, co-chairman, was sharing a table with Mrs. Gerald Bonomi and her family. Mrs. Bonomi was the designer of the popular flower cart table decorations.

The co-chairman of the decoration committee, Mrs. Thomas Mitchell, was hostess at a large table consisting of her mother, Mrs. John Engler, and her sisters, Mrs. Albert Masio and Mrs. Martin Heise, together with friends.

Finally sitting down after settling her financial affairs (she was chairman of the investment committee) at a large table was Mrs. Reinaldo Pagano with her co-workers, Mrs. Angelo Giraudo and Mrs. Bernard Cotter. Guests at the table were members of the families from down the Peninsula.

Likewise entertaining friends from the deep Peninsula was Mrs. M. L. Silver, chairman of the door prizes.

Joining the round of applause for model, Mrs. Walter

McElroy Jr., last year's president, was her mother, Mrs. James L. Shepherd; her mother-in-law, Mrs. Walter McElroy, and other members of her family.

Another proud daughter and mother duo was Mrs. Lynne Cookston and Mrs. John La Barbera, as they watched Mrs. Ernest Cookston jauntily modeling a bathing suit. Also at this table was Mrs. James Dur-yea, a past president of Westlake Catholic Women.

The reservation chairman, Mrs. John Schaeffer and Mrs. Charles Wester both had as their guests their mothers, mothers-in-law and other members of their family.

Another popular model was Mrs. Victor A. Scatena, last year's chairman, who received quite an ovation from the table shared by her sister, Mrs. Joseph Farrell and guests.

Mrs. Mortimer McInerney and Mrs. Thomas Nash were behind the scenes making sure the models made their appearances on time.

Father Richard W. Power, pastor of Our Lady of Mercy Church, congratulated the chairman, Mrs. Gordon, and all the members of her committee on such a well organized party, proceeds of which will benefit the school building fund.

Two more ladies watching the show with a feeling of pride were Mrs. T. Monahan, mother of Father Timothy Monahan, assistant pastor, and Mrs. J. Fox, housekeeper for the rectory.

UNIQUE INSTRUMENTS

Colma School's Sixth Graders Make Own Weather Forecasts

By Elvera Cody

Sixth grade boys and girls of Lola McKeown's class at Colma K-6 School are attempting their own weather forecasting.

This has evolved from a part of their science study on weather. Not only have they answered the questions of causes and effects of weather, but also what instruments are used in weather forecasting and the specific function of each instrument.

These sixth graders have made their own weather instruments. Though not accurate, these instruments provide a close indication of what may be expected weather-wise. They include a barometer for measuring air pressure made by Sandra O'Neil and Janet Monroe; a rain gauge for measuring the amount of rainfall, a hygrometer for measuring air humidity, a wind vane for telling the direction of wind, and an anemometer for telling the speed of wind made by Michael Dirickson and Steven Ungar-etti; and an air-movement indicator made by Ronald Mur-ray.

Gary Grant contributed a thermometer dog whose painted eyes turn blue on sunny days and pink on damp days.

Of course, it is not expected that these instruments are absolutely accurate, inasmuch as the materials used in their construction included such items as paper cups, milk cartons, jars, tin cans, drinking straws, pens, paper clips, and human hair.

Derish, Hadassah president, all reservations for this dinner-dance must be made by February 10. Proceeds go to youth projects in Israel. Reservations may be phoned to Mrs. Koplowitz, PL 6-1173, or Mrs. Wyner, PL 5-7765.

Bank Of America To Extend New Charge Acct. Plan

Bank of America's new Charge Account Plan will be extended soon throughout California, President S. Clark Beise announced today.

"Public response to the charge account plan in the Fresno area, where it was inaugurated last September, indicates this new service will be useful to merchants and consumers in all parts of the state," Beise said.

Beise said that present plans call for continued expansion of the service as rapidly as possible.

Charge account plan permits holders of the "Bankamericard" to purchase goods and services on a deferred payment basis from merchants and professional men participating in the plan. Bankamericards are issued at no charge and are available to anyone with reasonable credit standing.

A single itemized bill is sent from the bank each month to the card holder covering purchases made. One check covers payment of all purchases and if forwarded to the bank within 25 days of receipt of the bill, there is no charge to the card holder.

The charge account plan provides automatically for extending payments on unpaid balances over several months at the option of the cardholder.

Merchants and professional men participating in the charge account plan will display blue and white decal seals indicating they are members. Application for Bankamericards may be made through any of the participating merchants and professional men or at any of the bank's branches where the plan is in effect.
